Four Derricks Topple Causing $250,000 Damage

FOUR operating derricks at the Stoddard Slate Quarry were knocked down yesterday at 10 a.m. causing an estimated $250,000 damage. One man was injured in the accident.

Injured was Charles Commale, of North Bangor, who received a fractured arm.

The landing area of the quarry was a maze of jumbled wreckage with the derricks, used to hoist materials from the hole of the quarry to the surface, wire and building material scattered around.

Men Were Working
Fred Tedesco, general superintendent of the operation, said, "Men were at work on the quarry trying to develop a section of the hole and taking slate from the area in an effort to get into full operation following the fatal accident at the quarry on Sept. 12, 1962 when three men were killed."

"Yesterday morning, Tedesco

continued, "blocks of slate were being hoisted from the new section of the hole to supply the mill and other operations of the quarry. A block was being raised to the landing when the derrick on which it was being raised was jarred seemingly and started a chain reaction on the other three derricks nearby."

Derricks Topple
"All four derricks eventually toppled taking with them a maze of wiring and cables used in the operation of the quarry mechanical area. The two center derricks seemed to fall back from their mountings while the outside two fell away from the mountings in opposite directions," he concluded.

In the crash of the heavy steel derricks, buildings on the landing, or top of the quarry, were smashed like tinder; poles that supported the maze of wiring, necessary for the operation of the quarry, were a tangled mess and twisted wreckage was very much in evidence where ever a spectator would look.

Cars, owned by men working in the quarry, were damaged in the parking area. A portion of the block cutting mill was damaged when one of the steel derricks cut a large hole in the roof as it fell to the ground.

When the accident occurred 11 men were working in the hole. Ronald Weidman, one of the men who suffered minor injuries from the Sept. 12 accident, said "None of the men in the hole were injured this time because they were all watching the block being taken to the landing."

"I guess they were all looking in the right direction at the right time and were able to take cover from the falling cables, dangling wires and some rock that dropped when the derricks overturned," he concluded.

Look For Injured

Following the collapse of the hoists Weidman reported that he and the other men climbed out of the hole and headed for the landing as fast as they could to see if any of their fellow workers were injured.

Upon their arrival "topside" company officials were contacted and all men who were not working were contacted and requested to report for work. The clean-up operation began immediately. Tedesco indicated that many weeks would be required to restore the damaged equipment.

Cranes owned by J. H. Beers Inc., were brought to the scene to assist in the clean up. Electricians were attempting to restore the power supply late yesterday afternoon.

David Stoddard, general manager and treasurer of the company, was unable to be contacted for comment. He was out of town visiting with his daughter, a student in Sidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic nominee, had scheduled the debate in the home town of his Republican opponent, William W. Scranton—and paid for the TV time.

Over and over again in the past few weeks, and as late as Saturday afternoon, Scranton said he would not participate. Dilworth said he would debate "an empty chair" if Scranton didn't show.

The chair was in the studio of Station WNEP-TV, and Dilworth had a prepared speech in front of his desk when Scranton strode in—about 30 seconds before air time. Dilworth was surprised, but kept his composure.

Half Hour Debate
The half-hour debate, generally following the same rules of their first TV encounter Sept. 17, was comparatively mild in comparison with the shouting, fist-clenching, finger-pointing face-to-face verbal clash that followed.

There were phrases like this: Dilworth: "You're going to be shown up for what you are. You are loose with the truth." Scranton: "As usual my opponent is a complete liar."

Dilworth: "You're a phony, nothing but a phony... you called me anti-semitic, anti-catholic and anti-Negro."

Scranton: "I'll sue you for slander. Find those statements anywhere and show them to me. Not a word of is the truth."

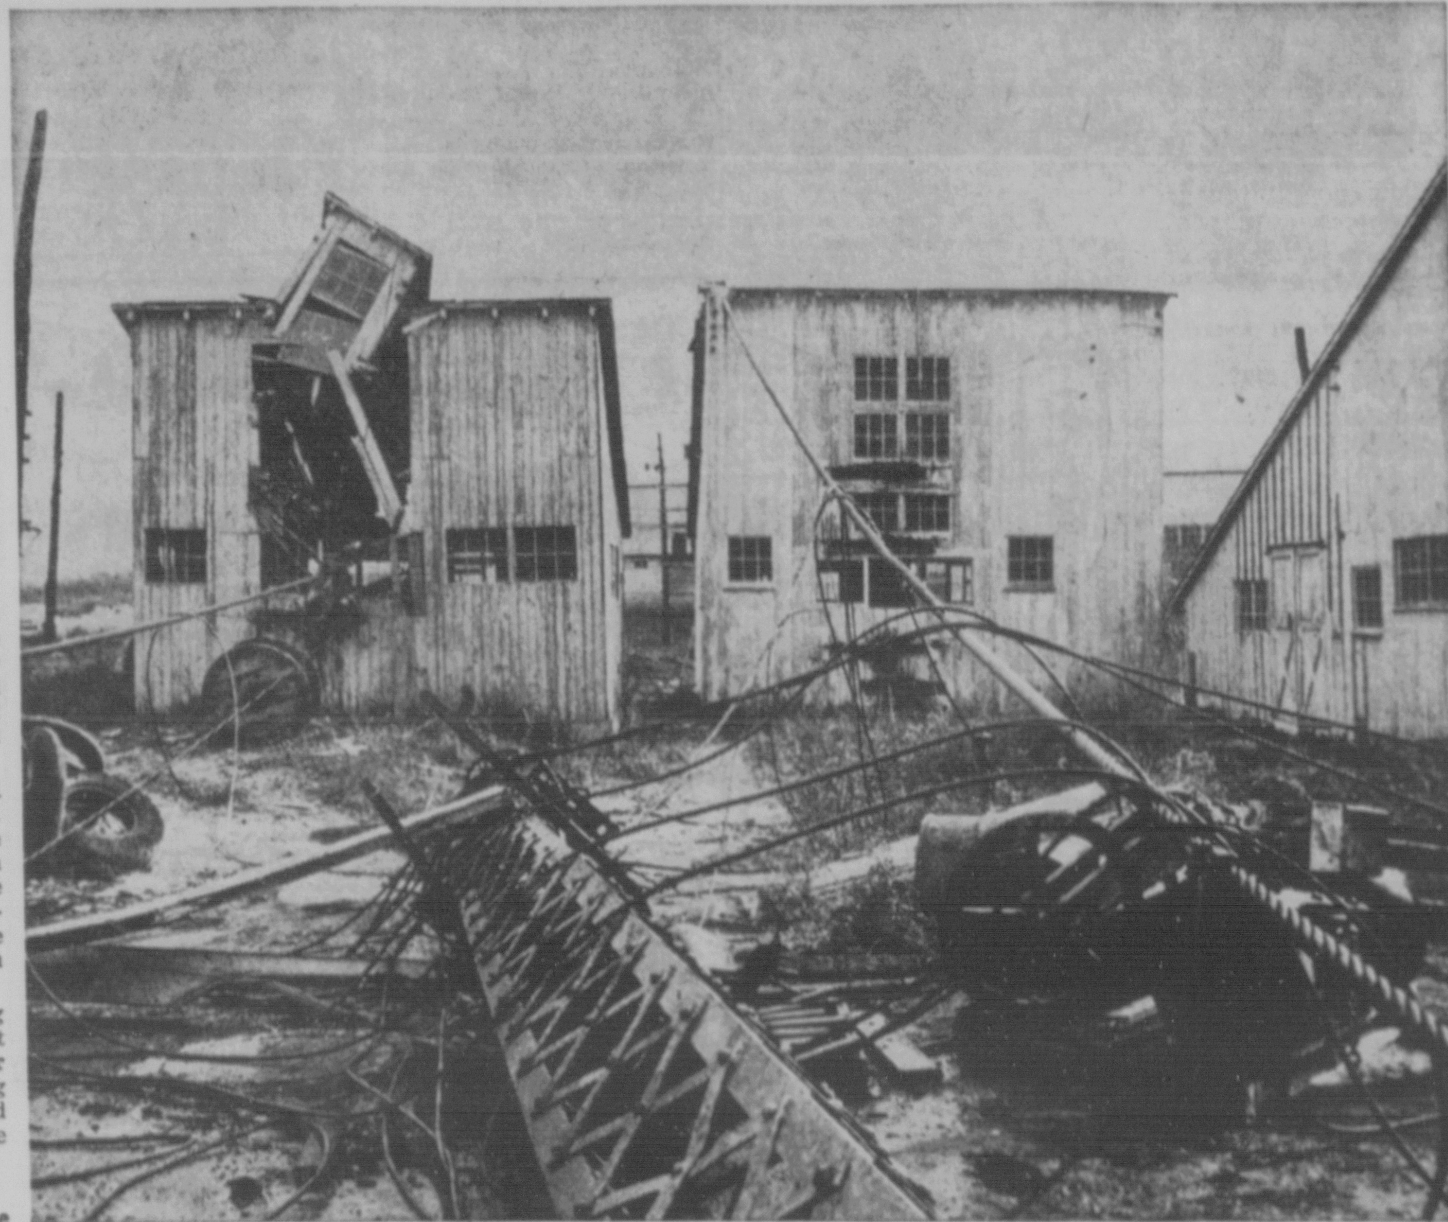

As the charges became more heated, Scranton said "we're not getting anywhere here. This man is desperate."

The Republican candidate started to walk out of the studios, followed by his aide.

"I knew you wouldn't have the nerve to stick around," shouted Dilworth at Scranton's back.

Later, talking to newsmen alone, Dilworth suggested there should be a third television debate, this time with Scranton picking up the tab.

"God knows he can afford it."

and ripped buildings were the general sight to be seen by the spectator following the accident at the quarry which caused an estimated $250,000 damage. Other photos on page 3.

Dilworth, Scranton Debate Ended With Name Calling

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democratic and Republican candidates for governor engaged in an unexpected debate over statewide television Saturday night. Afterwards, surrounded by newsmen, the two rivals wagged fingers in each other's face and exchanged "liar" charges in an even more bitter name-calling flow of hot words.

Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic nominee, had scheduled the debate in the home town of his Republican opponent, William W. Scranton—and paid for the TV time.

Over and over again in the past few weeks, and as late as Saturday afternoon, Scranton said he would not participate. Dilworth said he would debate "an empty chair" if Scranton didn't show.

The chair was in the studio of Station WNEP-TV, and Dilworth had a prepared speech in front of his desk when Scranton strode in—about 30 seconds before air time. Dilworth was surprised, but kept his composure.

Half Hour Debate
The half-hour debate, generally following the same rules of their first TV encounter Sept. 17, was comparatively mild in comparison with the shouting, fist-clenching, finger-pointing face-to-face verbal clash that followed.

There were phrases like this: Dilworth: "You're going to be shown up for what you are. You are loose with the truth." Scranton: "As usual my opponent is a complete liar."

Dilworth: "You're a phony, nothing but a phony... you called me anti-semitic, anti-catholic and anti-Negro."

Scranton: "I'll sue you for slander. Find those statements anywhere and show them to me. Not a word of is the truth."

As the charges became more heated, Scranton said "we're not getting anywhere here. This man is desperate."

The Republican candidate started to walk out of the studios, followed by his aide.

"I knew you wouldn't have the nerve to stick around," shouted Dilworth at Scranton's back.

Later, talking to newsmen alone, Dilworth suggested there should be a third television debate, this time with Scranton picking up the tab.

"God knows he can afford it."

Dilworth said, referring to the fact that Scranton is considered a multimillionaire.

Scranton, back at a GOP fundraising dinner he had left to participate in the debate, said "I see no need of that (another debate). ... it was clear that I bested him."

Walter Alessandrini said Scranton made up his mind to attend after he saw a newspaper advertisement here Saturday allegedly challenging Scranton's courage.

When Scranton walked into the studio to face Dilworth he carried a brown paper bag. Under the ground rules he spoke first (Dilworth was the opening speaker in their first TV meeting).

Scranton pulled out a large bucket smeared with whitewash from the bag and held it up.

He told the TV audience, estimated at millions in one published report, that originally he had no intention of coming because of the GOP dinner featuring an address by Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican vice presidential candidate in 1960.

"If Mr. Dilworth is looking for an empty chair," said Scranton, "He might go down there (to the dinner) and take a look and he'll not find one... since he (Dilworth) came up with the gimmick of an empty chair, I decided to come up with a presentation for him."

With that, he pointed to the bucket and suggested Dilworth "use this... to try to make up for the whitewashing that he has been doing of the graft and corruption in Philadelphia, and like."

Dilworth proposed this second TV debate at the conclusion of their first one, which Scranton turned down flatly at that time.

Scranton complained a few times Dilworth was using notes, which were barred under the rules of the first debate. Dilworth remained calm in replying that the notes were a prepared political speech. He said he brought them with him since Scranton had been telling everybody he wouldn't think of showing up.

Dilworth said Scranton's campaign "has been a campaign of evasion and double talk. He is carrying water on both shoulders. He is trying to cover up his own ignorance, evasiveness and hypocrisy."

They traded other charges and counter-charges.

Scranton said Dilworth favored a state income tax back in 1955, and quite clearly he has it in mind to do it again."

Dilworth denied he ever supported a state income tax proposal. He countered that Scranton has said he would impose excise taxes to raise money and "he doesn't even know what an excise tax is."

Kennedy Cuts Short Political Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration pulled a tight cover of secrecy Sunday over reports and speculations throughout official Washington that the United States was about to make a major, perhaps sensational, move in the Cuban crisis.

The only hard fact available was that air, naval and Marine forces have been concentrated during recent days in the Florida-Caribbean area. The official explanation for the buildup was that the United States is holding its annual naval maneuvers at Puerto Rico.

Sudden Decision
President Kennedy's sudden decision to cut short his Western political swing Saturday and fly back to Washington was one cause of the sense of excitement which seized the capital overnight.

But if Kennedy himself felt the excitement he did not show it. He did seem to be making a quick recovery from the cold which officially caused him to return home.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy attended Mass at St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church. He looked fit and smiled cheerfully to a crowd of about 75 persons who applauded as he left the church.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the President planned to relax Sunday. Dr. George Burkley had found Kennedy's cold improved, Salinger said, but the doctor recommended rest.

Any major development involving U.S. activity in the Cuba situation—or anywhere else in the world—would require Kennedy's close personal attention and command his constant interest.

Hence there was some speculation as to whether the President's cold-irritating but not unusual illness to cover some official need to return here from Chicago more than 24 hours ahead of schedule.

Elsewhere in town at his desk, Salinger, who does not normally show up at the White House on Sunday, was there for a couple of hours before returning to his home.

Pentagon command and policy posts were unusually well staffed. There was no official comment from any quarter, however, on any of the speculative reports.

Those on the job in the Defense Department included Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth, and Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., chief of naval operations.

In the Caribbean area itself extensive naval maneuvers were underway involving about 40 ships, 20,000 men and carrier based aircraft.

The center of the maneuver area is the small island of Vieques, Puerto Rico, Pentagon officials have said. Vieques lies just east of Puerto Rico, which is east of Cuba and separated from Cuba by the island shared by Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

The naval exercises began Oct. 15 and will run until Oct. 30. But not all the rumor and speculation was necessarily associated with that operation.

A number of naval vessels pulled out of Norfolk, Va. The Defense Department said they went to sea to ride out Hurricane Ella in open water rather than in port. The hurricane turned away from the coast.

Fighters Shifted
The Defense Department recently shifted a squadron of 1,400-mile-an-hour Navy jet fighters to Key West, Fla., which is 90 miles from Cuba. The word was that they were part of normal moves to offset the buildup of Communist military power in Cuba.

As to the nature of this buildup the Defense Department insisted that it still is essentially defensive and not therefore an offensive threat to the United States.

Officials had denied reports that Soviet attack bombers were beginning to show up in Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Soviet-made arsenal.

Reports that a Marine unit was being moved from California to the East Coast were finally confirmed here but with the explanation that the operation was part of the Caribbean maneuvers.

The group was described as a rifle battalion of about 1,200 men. It was being transferred from Camp Pendleton, Calif., to Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Indian Troops Retreat

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Hard fighting between retreating Indian troops and Red Chinese forces raged for the second day Sunday and leading newspapers declared India was in a desperate undeclared war for survival.

Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, reporting that the Chinese were pressing attacks with overwhelming strength, said, "From the way they are going there is no limit to where they may go."

Accuses Chinese
Menon, long a defender of Red China in the United Nations, accused the Red Chinese of naked aggression and said India had been caught unprepared. But one of his remarks at a mass meeting Saturday night was taken by some quarters as a hint of an offer to negotiate peace.

"Even after what the Chinese have done to us if they mend their ways and desire a peaceful settlement they will find our prime minister unwavering in statesmanship," he said.

Speculation that Soviet Russia might intervene diplomatically with Red China arose after Prime Minister Nehru met Saturday for half an hour with Soviet Ambassador I. A. Benediktov. Russia agreed several weeks ago to deliver MIG fighters to India.

U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith, who went to London Saturday intending to stay a week, hastened back to New Delhi, explaining, "this is not a good time to be off the job."

Two leaders of the Praja Socialist party who visited Nehru reported he was only slightly worried and not at all pessimistic about the ultimate outcome.

But they said he was seriously considering calling an emergency session of Parliament for Nov. 5. When the Socialist leaders urged a break in diplomatic relations with Peiping, he was said to have replied that the possible consequences would have to be studied carefully.

The Red Chinese were pressing attacks 900 miles apart in the disputed highlands of the Himalayas where winter already has set in, with heavy snowfall.

The Indians, at the end of extremely rugged supply lines that depend on air drops and human pack trains, already had been driven out of six or seven defense posts and were still retreating.

They traded other charges and counter-charges.

Scranton said Dilworth favored a state income tax back in 1955, and quite clearly he has it in mind to do it again."

Dilworth denied he ever supported a state income tax proposal. He countered that Scranton has said he would impose excise taxes to raise money and "he doesn't even know what an excise tax is."

State police identified him as William R. Fry, Jr., of Bethlehem R. D. 1. They said Fry apparently overshot the runway.

Bangor Lions Hold Annual Ladies' Night

SOME 125 persons attended the annual Bangor Lions Club Ladies' Night dinner and dance held at Heddy's Hawaiian Room near Marshalls Creek on Saturday evening. Guest speaker for the function was Morris Fazio, a member of the Portland Club and district governor who spoke on "Team Work".

Fazio was introduced by club president, Charles Hower, Jr., who acted as the master of ceremonies for the affair. The speaker congratulated the members of the Bangor Club and their officers for the excellent work they are doing in the area in the name of Lions International. He noted with pride that the Bangor Club practices to the highest degree the principles of the international organization in the daily life of the club and its members. "We are a service club, and the limits of our work are endless, boundless and far-reaching," the speaker reported.

Edison Treble served as song leader and the invocation and benediction were given by Richard Werner. The members and guests dined on a typical Hawaiian menu and all ladies present were given a gift of a desk set by the club.

Two new members, John Heard and Joseph Duvo, were inducted by Richard Werner, past president, and a special award of service to the club was presented to Mrs. Melite Luxton, 85-years-old, for her assistance to club treasurer, her son-in-law Clifford Marsh.

Among those introduced were Mr. and Mrs. John Florot, chair of the finance committee; Mr. and Mrs. Fazio, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Werner, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marsh, Mr. Fred Oyer, a past president of the East Bangor Lions Club; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Phillips, the former club secretary and some 24 other persons guests of club members for the function.

The centerpiece, designed in the Lions International symbol, made of flowers of the season was presented by Club President Hower to Mrs. Fazio.

Arrangements for the affair were in charge of a committee composed of Frank Ott, chairman, Edgar Joseph, Richard Werner, Thomas Verona and Domenic Sabatine.

Jaycees Plan Parade For Halloween

JUDGES for the annual Halloween parade sponsored jointly by the Jaycees and the Business-men's Associations of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg have been selected by the Jaycee committee.

Judging the musical groups will be Sonny Eaton and Terrance Bartholomew, both musicians well known locally. In the float and marchers division Jeannette Batory, Fran Shinn, and A. A. "Shorty" Widmer will do the judging.

Howard Coslett, parade chairman, advised that assembly of parade will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the parking lot behind the East Stroudsburg High School and all groups are urged to be there at that time. The parade will begin at 7:00.

Rain date for the parade is the following night, Wednesday, Oct. 31. The same times will prevail.

Any persons or organizations interested in entering a float or marching group should contact Howard Coslett at 421-1581 evenings.

Elementary In-Service Day Held

DR. ELIZABETH H. Dietz, Professor of Education, Brooklyn College, N. Y., was the guest speaker at the annual East Stroudsburg Area Joint Elementary Schools In-Service Day held Friday at the J. M. Hill School, East Stroudsburg. Dr. Dietz entitled her address to the educators "Individualized Reading".

Other speakers on yesterday's agenda were Mrs. Fern Stowell, Librarian, ESSC; Mrs. Frances Duncan, Consultant for the MacMillan Company; Mrs. Gladys E. Blitz, Associate Professor of Education, ESSC; and Mrs. Anne Reszek, Director of Elementary Education, East Penn School District.

Local teachers participating in the program were Mrs. Mary Ellen Garman, Mrs. Dorothy Neupert, Mrs. Rosemary McMahon, Mrs. Pauline H. Peterson and James Rine, all of the East Stroudsburg High School District. Chairman Carl T. Secor, Supervising Principal called the general meeting to order and Walter Sebring, Asst. Monroe County Superintendent of Schools, and Lloyd Jones, Pike County Superintendent of Schools, were the official greeters.

Snyder Speaks Before CLU Delegates

GERALD A. Snyder, Republican candidate for Representative in the General Assembly from Monroe County, spoke recently before the delegates to the Central Labor Union at the CLU hall in East Stroudsburg.

Snyder, who is 36 and a native of East Stroudsburg, outlined his personal qualifications and pointed out that he is a product of the East Stroudsburg schools, as well as a State College graduate and also holds the degree of M. A. in Government from Lehigh University.

He noted that Mrs. Snyder is an elementary teacher in the J. M. Hill school there, and he is at present a trustee of the Grace Lutheran Church as well as a past teacher and superintendent of the church school.

Snyder stated that he was well aware of the anti-union actions and obstructive tactics of his opponent towards the efforts of the employees of the college and the highway shed engaging in collective bargaining.

"I feel that the employees, at the college and at the highway shed should have this right, if it is their desire, to do so," Snyder declared. "My opponent disagrees with this, as you all know."

Community Concerts To Open With Vocalist Tonight

THE Community Concert series will open tonight at the East Stroudsburg State College auditorium with prominent bass-baritone soloist Donald Gramm.

Gramm, accompanied by Richard Cummings at the piano, will present a program of selections which include Lully, Haydn, Dvorak, Wagner, Mozart and Bizet. Several pieces by Brahms are included. Also on the program are American Folk songs and ballads.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. In addition to the selections by classical composers, Gramm has set to music melodies from the hill-country of America.

A highlight of the program is the dialogue set to music by Brahms which takes place between a maiden on her balcony and her lover in the garden below.

Gramm has finished 50 singing engagements with the Boston Symphony Orchestra and has a number of recordings.

Keys outlined the general objectives, then called on Richard Davis, education chairman of the Young Republicans, who thanked the students for attending and introduced Gerald Snyder, Republican candidate for the General Assembly, Snyder, a graduate of ESSC, stressed the need for student participation in political affairs.

President Edwin Krawitz of the Monroe County Young Republican Club invited the students to attend the meeting of his club at the Young Republican headquarters, 616 Main St., Stroudsburg.

The next meeting of the ESSC Republican Club will be Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Oaks Hall. All interested students are invited.

Antique Cars Destroyed At Shawnee

THREE antique autos and a two-story frame barn were destroyed by fire Friday at 5 p.m. on the property of Mrs. Alexander Coles, Shawnee.

The barn was used by Mrs. Coles' son, Alex, as a storage workshop, for a collection of five Model A Fords. Some damage was reported to an unoccupied caretaker's cottage, which was separated from the barn by a driveway.

One side of the cottage and part of the slate roof supports were burned and damaged by smoke and water.

Firemen from Shawnee and Marshalls Creek fought four hours to extinguish the blaze, which Mrs. Coles said, was caused by faulty wiring. Mrs. Coles discovered the fire at 5 p.m. when she returned home.

The firemen used a tractor to break down a barn door to remove two of the autos which had been restored. They were damaged by smoke.

Renaissance For Rails

Historians will mark 1962 as the beginning of a "new renaissance in railroading"—and the railroad industry is on the threshold of a bright new future of service to the American people.

Thus predicts Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads. He bases his opinion on the federal government's recognition and acknowledgment of its own primary responsibility not only for railroad difficulties but also for much of the transportation mess. He cited President Kennedy's recent transportation message to Congress as an outstanding example of the increased understanding the year has brought — an understanding, he feels, which is shared by the general public.

Mr. Loomis also touches on some of the other good signs. Progress is being made, despite determined union opposition, to eliminate featherbedding practices which result from totally obsolete work rules. Numbers of court decisions have legally supported railroad efforts to compete more effectively with other carriers. Congress and the Administration show sympathy toward soundly conceived mergers.

On top of this, some astonishing technological advancements have become possibilities. One, for instance, is fully automatic train operation, "without human hands at the controls."

Let us all hope that Mr. Loomis' optimism proves to be fully justified, and that the roadblocks that still exist will be eliminated with a minimum of delay. We must have railroads. And, more than that, we need a taxpaying, driving, private enterprise railroad industry capable of providing the ultimate in service at the minimum in cost.

New Routes For Tourists

The emergence of Pennsylvania as a recreation state, one where the scenery and topography can be capitalized on, will get a further boost from the network of 20 tourist routes planned by the State Department of Forests and Waters.

Secretary Maurice K. Goddard has told the Pennsylvania Roadside Council that the plan will be submitted for public criticism and comment shortly. Each of the 67 counties will be linked.

Many out-of-staters know more about Pennsylvania's beauty than do some of our city dwellers. Truly, Pennsylvania is magnificent and particularly so when the foliage turns. Thousands upon thousands of rolling hills march across the Commonwealth, closely timbered. The fiery reds, the wondrous yellows and oranges of the leaves of the deciduous trees complement the glistening greens of the pines, the junipers, firs and cedars. Even the ugly earth scars left by strip miners are being covered by the efforts of the Forestry Department in seeding, by hand and by air. Deer, bear, rabbits and game birds abound.

This beauty can and should be turned into more of an asset than it is at present, one that can help the economy of the state. Secretary Goddard's plan should be awaited with great interest.

Jack Vs. Ike

The campaign has resolved itself into a slugging match between President Kennedy and ex-President Eisenhower. As they both did about the same thing, and have not been too far from each other in principle, there is much dancing about the ring. The candidates for Governor and for Congress were just preliminaries and in some places they are still doing some real fighting. The principals, however, are the big boys.

Now some say that it is bad to talk about foreign affairs because it upsets the foreigners and makes them nervous and the foreigners may lose confidence in us. Oh! My!

Roosevelt used that line in each campaign subsequent to 1932. Please don't talk about foreign affairs; in fact, talk about nothing. So he managed to be elected four times because the party in opposition had nothing to say. In fact, it all got around to that me-too business which is a political razor. In this campaign, the big issue is Cuba and the pot is calling the kettle black.

Let us put down some dates: Eisenhower Administration 1956: A year of political disturbances; Revolution which Batista says he put down but which Herbert Matthews of the "New York Times" said was continuing. Castro lands in Oriente Province. The State Department had records of Castro's Communist affiliations since 1948.

1957: Castro forces active. (Fidel Castro had taken part in Bogotazo (1948); regarded as extreme radical. His brother, Raul, a Communist; his chief adjutant, Che Guevara, a Communist.)

March 13 — U. S. tourist killed. U. S. Government silent and inactive.

May 24 — New revolutionary force lands in Cuba. Explosion knocks out Havana power works.

May 17 — Earl E. T. Smith appointed Ambassador after a pro-Castro briefing by Herbert Matthews. August 1, Batista suspends the Constitution. Revolutionists seized near Key West; their real base of operation is Miami, on American soil.

1958: Castro continues raids and revolutionary activity. Receives arms and persons from the United States. Civil War continues throughout the year. American Ambassadors Gardner, Smith, Hill, Braden, Pauley have warned the State Department of the character and nature of the Castro Revolution and that the Castros were Communists or Communist affiliated. No action.

1959: Castro takes over. He sets up a revolutionary government in Cuba.

1960: Red China steps in to buy the Cuban sugar crop and Red Chinese advisers arrive in Cuba in large numbers. Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and other Communist countries establish commercial pacts with Cuba. The State Department had withheld supplies from Batista, assuming that Castro was a Democratic leader, but on October 1, President Eisenhower declared that the United States will defend its base at Guantanamo, and therefore recognized what had really happened and what the danger is.

Kennedy Administration 1961: Murder, rape, abuse of human rights continues. Russians disclose their association with Castro Revolution. Khrushchev vows aid to Castro, April 18.

April 30 — Che Guevara declared Cuba socialized — announced Five Year Plan — Communist International announced support. Red China announced it would build factories in Cuba.

May 1 — Castro declares Cuba Socialist. He said: "If Mr. Kennedy does not like socialism, we don't like imperialism, we don't like capitalism." He warned that the U. S. "aggressive policy" was "putting New York in danger of becoming another Hiroshima." State Department declares Cuba a Communist country.

April 17 — Landing on Bay of Pigs by Cuban anti-Communist — organized in the United States under the auspices of CIA — Air cover removed by President Kennedy — Failure.

December 12 — Castro announced: "I am a Marxist-Leninist and will be one until the day I die. The rest of the world is on the road toward Communism. Cuba's program will be Marxist-Leninist but adapted to conditions in Cuba."

This is not, of course, the whole story of Cuba from 1956 to 1962 but it is a sufficient outline to indicate what happened. Neither Eisenhower nor Kennedy could be held blameless. They should not attack each other about this as both have pursued identical do-nothing policies.

As for the Republican Party, up to this election, it has been no different than the Democratic Party. Everybody in government during all Administrations from 1948 until this election has been misled about Cuba by the Fourth Floor of the State Department. There is where the blame must be fixed.

Unfair Play:

A bookie handed over the money to the little old lady.

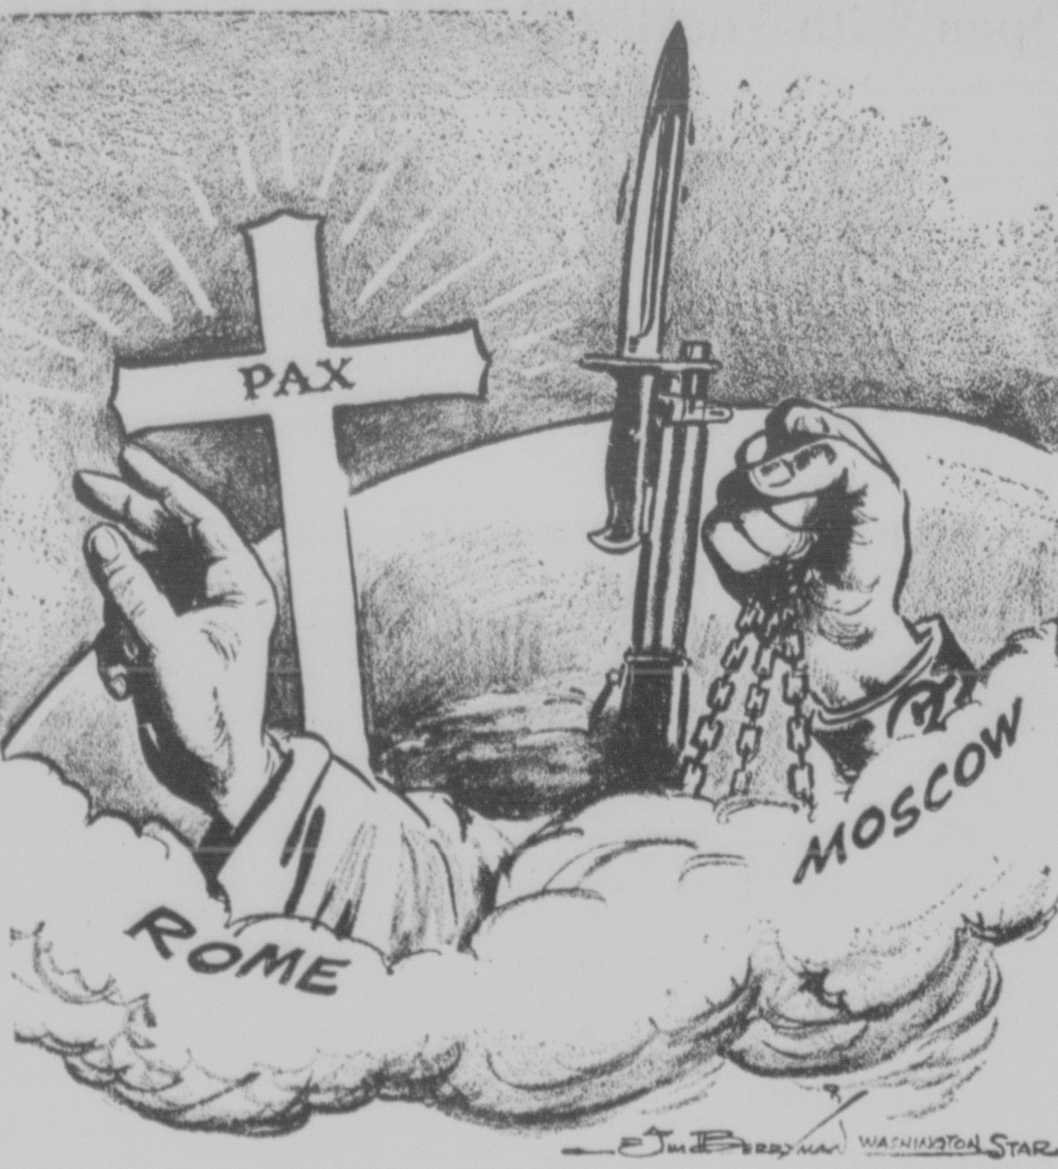

"How did you manage to pick the winner?" he asked.

"I just stuck a pin in the paper," she answered, "and there it was."

"But how come you knocked off four winners yesterday?" "Oh," laughed the little old lady, "yesterday I cheated a little. I used a fork."

The Pennsylvania Story

On The Road With Dilworth

By Mason Denison

With Dilworth Campaign Caravan — Riding herd on Democratic gubernatorial candidate Dick Dilworth is something like trying to keep pace with a charging half-starved Canadian moose!

This is not to say that Mr. Dilworth is a hungry man — although he is just that, in a sense; hungry, that is, for the governorship of Pennsylvania, in a determined moose-charging manner!

Riding the Dilworth Campaign Caravan, that is one impression you can't escape.

Dick Dilworth means business — and he's throwing everything under his 63-year-old hide into it.

One thing — one of the few things — Mr. Dilworth and his Republican counterpart in this year's gubernatorial fray have in common is that they are both almost oblivious to the hub-bub, commotion and nerve-jangling scramble of campaign caravaning that sends aides hurrying to the ulcer pits, shambled and somewhat disorganized nervous wrecks.

This is just about where any similarity ends. In contrast to the modulated, even-tempered flowing attitude of Republican hopeful Bill Scranton, Dick Dilworth emphasizes and underscores his every move, his every word with an emphatic shake of the head, an upraised arm, a pointing finger and a constant fluctuation in tonal qualities as he talks to a group.

Riding the caravan and watching the former Philadelphia mayor "in action" you get the inescapable impression that these traits are paying off. His listeners listen. They watch his every move intently. They cheer and clap spontaneously — not by cue boards or at direction.

The guy unquestionably is a fascinating campaigner. (If he followed this pattern while with the Marines in the South Pacific during World War II — it is small wonder the Japs eventually gave up!)

Mr. Dilworth is a amazingly conversant with Pennsylvania's State Government structure; its fallacies, its pitfalls, its deficiencies, its needs, how it operates (in detail) — and what he feels should be done.

At this point it should perhaps be noted that our observations and conclusions in this series have been gleaned from two basic sources: (1) watching the candidate in public action, and (2) private discussions between this columnist and the candidate himself.

As for the Dilworth Campaign Caravan, it is extremely well organized, runs like clockwork, bedrocked with the proper and appealing pitch — all with a high touch of professionalism.

It is designed, to put it simply, as a hard hitting battlewagon. That is precisely what it is. "Admiral" Dilworth holds the key — but his aides aboard the "ship" know what to do and how to do it.

How well has Dick Dilworth "held up" under the strain of campaigning? We'll put it this way: this past spring, he and his charming wife, Ann, stopped in to see us for a chit-chat here at the office. At that time we made a mental note of how well both appeared.

That was some six months ago. Studying the two as we jogged with the caravan we couldn't help but note that both candidate Dilworth and his wife looked just as fit (or perhaps more so, if that's possible) as they did six months ago!

Make no mistake about it — one of the brutal show-down points is the grind of the caravan itself day in and day out; how well or perhaps just plain "how" the candidate holds up underneath and behind the "public face."

On this score it must be conceded that Democratic gubernatorial candidate Dick Dilworth is holding up with the best of them!

(Tomorrow: Detailing it on the Democratic Caravan.)

Try and Stop Me

A friend once brought Picasso three paintings to sign. Picasso refused, declaring that all three were palpable fakes. "But," protested the exasperated friend, "I saw you paint these pictures with my own eyes." Picasso's unabashed answer was, "I can paint fake Picassos just as well as anybody."

THE BRIDGE OF SIGNS:

In the reading room of a Pittsburgh public library: "No children allowed." . . . In a downtown bar and grille: "Mother-in-law special plate: cold shoulder and tongue." . . . In a Victorian cottage along Route 22: "Antiques. Will haggle." . . . On the letterhead of a speakers' bureau: "Have lectures. Will gavel." . . . In a Waukegan garage: "Our auto fixin', is better'n our sign painting!"

Octogenarian playwright and novelist P. G. Wodehouse has jotted down some of his memories in a little book called "Author! Author!" He recalls, for instance, the time he went to Southern California for the winter — and found it. And the time he asked Thurber how his new play was coming along. "It has only one fault," answered Thurber slowly. "It's kind of lousy."

Wodehouse became a writer because, he says, after starting out as a bank clerk, he quickly decided that his true future lay in cashing rather than filing checks.

Bernard Shaw was no favorite of P. G. Wodehouse. He quotes, with relish, a remark made by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero when Shaw resigned in a huff from the Dramatists Club. "Mr. Shaw's resignation," said Sir Arthur, "is as nothing compared with ours."

At a Westchester country club, a member told the owner of a big metropolitan newspaper, "Say, I owe you a vote of thanks. Your paper proved just the thing to stop my two kids from raising the devil this morning." Obviously pleased, the newspaper owner inquired, "What particular article did the trick?" "No article at all," explained the father. "I just rolled up the paper and whacked them with it!"

Soviet Maneuvers Warn Of New Berlin Crisis

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington, October 22: There are significant new signs that Russia is making secret military preparations both at sea and on land for a Berlin showdown next month.

Soviet submarines have been observed for the first time operating in wolfpacks in the North Atlantic.

Nine wolfpacks, each comprising six to ten submarines, were spotted and put under surveillance by U. S. and British naval units during Russia's recent North Atlantic maneuvers.

This six-week naval exercise produced more than 140 Soviet submarine sightings and contacts by British ships alone. They identified 34 as missile-firing subs.

Significantly, two nuclear-powered submarines took part in the maneuvers—the largest Russia has ever undertaken in the Atlantic. One of these A-boats was photographed by a British submarine in waters less than 100 miles from the U. S. Coast, northeast of Boston.

A second Soviet A-boat was photographed by a British naval plane on the surface near Iceland. It was identified as a Polaris-type submarine, capable of firing three IRBMs while submerged.

Inside You And Yours

Dear Doctor...

Dear Doctor: After my second Cesarean operation, 15 years ago, my tubes were tied. Can nervous strain from this bring on insanity?

Mrs. O. J. (N. Y.)
Dear Mrs. J.: This shouldn't cause any nervous strain.

Your doctor considered the operation necessary. Another pregnancy might have killed both you and your baby. This way you're alive and well — able to raise two healthy youngsters. Still, don't neglect that nervous strain; check with your doctor.

Dear Doctor: Why are diabetic foods labeled "should be used only by persons who must restrict their intake of ordinary sweets"? Is the artificial sweetener harmful?

Mr. W. C. (Conn.)
Dear Mr. C.: Many people on special diets didn't restrict sugar mistakenly bought the more expensive artificial sweeteners. And so to avoid confusion, special diabetic foods must tell what kind of a diet they're intended for.

Artificial sweeteners in an ordinary diet won't harm you.

Continuous Asthma
Dear Doctor: After four years of allergy shots, I still have asthma all year long. Is there a less expensive cure?

Mrs. L. J. (Wisc.)
Dear Mrs. J.: Tiny daily doses of cortisone medicines can often control asthma without side effects. Draining sinuses drip down into the air passage and mimic asthma.

Has your doctor checked for mild cystic fibrosis? Its thick, sticky mucus can clog air passages and make you wheeze, too. Then inhaled chemicals can thin out your problem.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would quit printing all those stupid letters from teenagers. Who cares about an idiotic 14-year-old girl who's madly "in love" with her Science teacher?

Or, when a girl meets a boy in the hall, who says "hi" first? Come on, Abby, let's have some really serious problems!

ADULT READER

DEAR ABBY: Teen-agers read your column, too, and we would like to have more letters from our age group. We aren't interested in noisy neighbors, unfaithful husbands and barking dogs. Give us more teen letters! Thank you.

TEEN FANS

DEAR ABBY: I enjoy reading your column because you get right to the point and seem to hit the nail on the head without wasting any words. Keep up that snappy style, Abby, old girl. It's very refreshing in this day and age when so many writers don't know when to quit.

This British photograph is the first indisputable evidence the West has been able to obtain showing that Russia has succeeded in building a missile-firing submarine similar to our Polaris.

The photograph supports Premier Khrushchev's address to the 22d Congress of the Communist Party on October 17, 1961, when he boasted:

"Construction of a submarine fleet is proceeding successfully. It is being equipped with atomic engines and armed with ballistic as well as self-guiding (samanavodyashchiesaya) rockets."

"Until now the submarine performed only tactical maneuvers. The new nuclear weapons and new propulsion systems make it possible for a submarine to go out onto the high seas and perform operational missions. The atomic submarine and its armament can destroy a large enemy naval base, a large industrial center, or an aircraft carrier formation."

More Evidence — U. S. Intelligence has gathered additional evidence of the existence of a Soviet "Polaris" missile-firing submarine. Two intermediate range ballistic missiles, launched from a submerged Russian sub in July, were tracked by radar by a U. S. nuclear submarine and by a long-range U. S. missile-tracking station.

One missile firing, watched by Premier Khrushchev, took place in the Barents Sea. The missile landed in the target area after traveling 1,900 miles — approximately the same range as the improved Polaris.

In addition to the swarm of submarines, more than 150 other Soviet naval vessels, ranging from heavy missile-firing cruisers to minesweepers, took part in this huge naval exercise. It covered an area of more than 2,000 miles and involved nearly 300 ships and submarines.

According to a British intelligence estimate, the maneuvers were designed primarily to test Soviet naval tactics against Western shipping in the North Atlantic in the event of war.

The exercise was regarded as a Kremlin warning to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization that their European supply lines are vulnerable and will be a Communist target in an East-West conflict.

On the Land — In Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany, Warsaw Pact armies have either completed or are in the process of completing large-scale maneuvers.

Colonel General Marian Spychalski, Poland's Defense Minister, was in charge of the recent Polish army exercises, which were closely watched by Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, Soviet commander-in-chief of the Warsaw Pact forces.

This was the first since the 1954 Poznan riots that a Polish General had been put in charge of such maneuvers. Soviet troops teamed up with Polish soldiers and airmen, and again with East Germans, in the maneuvers along the Czech-German-Polish frontiers. Other army exercises by Soviet bloc troops are planned for areas near West Berlin late in November.

Intelligence reports tell of increased conscription into the East German army, and heavy new shipments of Russian arms—including modern anti-aircraft rockets—into the area surrounding Berlin and the Allies' access corridors.

These alarming reports have caused President Kennedy and his top aides to sound their warning that a new West Berlin crisis is approaching.

Looking Forward — Dr. Alberto Franco Nogueira, Portugal's Foreign Minister, has informed the State Department that Portuguese Angola will not cooperate in United Nations economic sanctions against Katanga's Moise Tshombe. The Angolan port of Benguela is one of the two major channels through which Katangese goods reach the outside world and through which military supplies are being funneled into Katanga. The other supply route is via northern Rhodesia. . . . Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., in a Voice of America broadcast this week, said he fully supported the sale of a U. S. nuclear-powered submarine to France.

Young Democrats Rally; Hear Several Candidates

A CAMPAIGN rally and election meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Monroe County was held at the Stroud Township Municipal Building on Thursday evening at which a large number of people and several candidates for office in the coming election appeared including Rep. Van D. Yetter, Jr., candidate for reelection to the General Assembly, and Carl A. Niehoff, candidate for the State Senate.

The speakers' portion of the evening was under the chairmanship of Dr. Alfred D. Sumberg, faculty advisor to the Student Democratic Club of the East Stroudsburg State College. The speakers were Kenneth Lewis, East Stroudsburg Attorney and Chairman of the Monroe County Citizens for Clark-Dilworth, David A. Price, Monroe County Democratic Chairman, Representative Yetter, Mr. Niehoff, and Attorney Russell L. Mervine.

The common theme of all the speakers was the traditional responsiveness of the Democratic Party to the needs of the American people in contrast to the do-nothing approach of the Republicans.

Traces History
Kennard Lewis traced the history of the Democratic Party from its inception to the present. David Price encouraged all young Democrats to participate in the present campaign.

Niehoff pointed out that most modern American economic and social advances have come about under Democratic Administration, citing as examples social security and the shorter work week. Furthermore, Niehoff said that, "the time has come for the law to be changed so that elderly people living on small pensions should be exempt from the payment of real estate taxes on their homes. And when I am elected I propose to introduce such a bill in the State Senate and to fight for its adoption."

Yetter called attention to his accomplishments in the General Assembly in the area of new highways, flood control projects and expansion of East Stroudsburg State College, pointing out that nearly 20 million dollars of public funds have been expended in Monroe County in recent years. He said: "This takes hard work and I have worked hard and of the 103 roll calls at the 1962 General Assembly I was present and voted on every one and I intend to do the same at the 1963 session of the Legislature."

Mervine reviewed briefly the qualifications of Joseph S. Clark, candidate for reelection to the United States Senate, and Richardson Dilworth, Democratic candidate for Governor, observing that each had served as Mayor of Philadelphia and that each had gained wide experience in the administration of government by virtue of their long years of public service. "We all know," Mr. Mervine said, "that Philadelphia today is regarded as model of modern city development. On the other hand Mr. Dilworth's opponent is a one-term part-time Congressman who interrupts his one term to run for Governor with neither qualifications nor experience for the office."

Praises Yetter

Mr. Mervine stated: "I have known Van Yetter all my life and know that he has built a business here in Monroe County which was begun from nothing and which today employs many people. This required good judgment and administrative ability. We want such a man to represent us in Harrisburg, a man who has demonstrated by his private life and many years of public service that he has this ability. Monroe County has benefited in many ways through the legislative efforts of Mr. Yetter. Let Monroe County continue to have the benefits of his ability and experience as a legislator by returning him to Harrisburg as Representative to the General Assembly."

In the business portion of the meeting the following officers were elected: Attorney John J. Pentz, President; John F. Hogan, First Vice-President; Daniel G. Warner, Second Vice-President; Carmen Archer, Secretary; Attorney Samuel W. Newman, Treasurer.

It was announced that the next regular meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Monroe County will be held on October 23, 1962, at 7:30 in the evening at the Stroud Township Municipal Building and that all young Democrats of Monroe County are urged to attend.

NEW OFFICERS — The above members of the Young Democratic Club of Monroe County were elected at a meeting last Thursday night. They are, l. to r.: Atty. Samuel W. Newman, treasurer; John F. Hogan, first vice-pres.; Mrs. Carmen Archer, secretary, and Atty. John J. Pentz, president. Daniel G. Warner, second vice-pres., was not present for the picture.

Local Professors To Attend Meet

Mrs. CAROLE L. Musher and Dr. LARA Evans, professors of Health and Physical Education at the East Stroudsburg State College, will attend the annual conference of the Eastern Association of Physical Education for College Women.

The conference will be held Thursday, October 18 through Sunday, October 21 at Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Lehigh Presbytery Plans Retreat At Buck Hill Falls

THE annual retreat of the Presbyterian ministers and their wives of the Lehigh Presbytery will be held at The Inn at Buck Hill Falls, on Monday and Tuesday, November 5 and 6.

Jack Irwin, outstanding television, radio and stage star will be with the clergymen to render a few sacred solos at the time of devotions. Mrs. Edward R. Mooner will assist him at the piano.

The devotional leaders will be the Rev. Wesley Crowthers of Shawnee-On-Delaware and the Rev. John Bolier of Stroudsburg.

Three seminars are to be conducted during the retreat. They will be conducted by the Rev. Robert Sandcock of Easton and the Rev. John Stoner of Allentown. Mr. Stoner and Mr. Sandcock are preparing exceptional presentations on "The Nature of The Ministry."

There will be much labor for the clergymen during the retreat. However, there will be a period of recreation. Because The Inn makes golfing available for the guests, the ministers and their wives are reminded to take their golfing equipment with them. There will also be shuffleboard, ping pong, billiards, checkers, chess and many other types of relaxation.

The Rev. R. Walter Anderson of Hokendauqua, the Rev. Edward R. Mooner of Allentown and the Rev. Frank W. Winger of East Stroudsburg are in charge of arrangements.

The schedule for the Retreat is as follows:

Monday, November 5
2:00 P.M.—Registration
3:00 P.M.—Devotions
3:15 P.M.—Seminars

Dr. Koehler Set For Conference

DR. LEROY J. Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State College, will journey to Bedford Springs, Pa., with Mrs. Koehler and Dr. Frank Sils, Head of the Graduate Program, to attend a conference sponsored by the Pennsylvania Association of College and University Presidents.

The conference will be held on Monday and Tuesday, October 22 and 23. The major topic to be discussed by the group will be "The Graduate Program" in the Pennsylvania State Colleges.

Traffic Club Meets Tuesday

THE Traffic Club will meet Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 6 p.m. in Chariton's Lodge, on Route 209 near East Stroudsburg.

Program Chairman Bill Osborn advises all members that a surprise speaker will be presented at the meeting and that by missing the meeting members will miss a good thing.

Run On Bank For 'Silver'

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—A jam-packed crowd, estimated at between 750 and 1,000 persons, stormed the lobby of Miners National Bank Friday morning in quest of U. S. savings bonds in exchange for silver dollars that were minted in the year 1900.

Here are some of the things which happened in the first half-hour after 9 a. m.:

1. Three women lost their shoes in the crowd and were unable to obtain them until the crowd had dispersed.
2. Two windows in the tellers cages were broken by the mob.
3. Several men in the crowd had their shirts ripped, while women's garments also were torn.

4. One woman had a necklace ripped from around her neck. It was found later and is still at the bank.

Barrett PTA Meets Teachers

Barrett—Private conferences between parents and teachers of children in the Barrett Elementary Center will be arranged for Nov. 29 and 30, Lloyd Peak, principal of the school announced at the PTA meeting Monday.

The sessions will be set and parents notified by mail. The announcement was made at the "Meet the Staff" program, which opened the 1962-1963 session of the Barrett Elementary Center PTA.

Walter Melnikoff, president of the Monroe County Council of Parents and Teachers, commended the school, school board and administration on the progress made in the past two years.

Peak pointed out the improvements which have been made during the summer, including painting, enlargement of the cafeteria facilities and books in the library.

It was announced that a Halloween costume party would be held sponsored by the PTA Friday, Oct. 26, at 8 p.m. Prizes will be awarded by the organization for the best costumes.

Peak introduced the teaching staff, Kindergarten, Mrs. Ruth Guida; first grade, Mrs. Marjorie Bessecker and Miss Eleanor Mullins; second grade, Mrs. Sherry Reese and Mrs. Edna Rose; third grade, Mrs. Edwin Gantzhorn and Mrs. Frances Jurgeson; fourth grade, Miss Edna Eife and Miss Ruth Henry; fifth grade, Mrs. Karen Adams and Joseph Ofalt and sixth grade, John Sengle.

Also introduced were Samuel Everett, physical education teacher; Mrs. Marcia Bloss, speech therapist and Russell Speicher, music director. Dr. Edmund Magaan, school board member, was introduced.

Mrs. Joseph Mikels led devotions. Officers for the new year are: Mrs. Charles Wilkison, president; Mrs. Albert Goll, vice president; Mrs. William Brush, secretary; Miss Ruth Henry, corresponding secretary, and Herbert Larsen, treasurer.

A round table discussion will be presented at the Nov. 12 meeting on "Foreign Language" with Mrs. William Anderson and Lester Bowers as moderators. The business session will begin at 8 p.m.

Methodist Choir Joins Service At Church Home

Mountainhome — Members of the Mountainhome Methodist Church Senior Choir recently assisted in worship services at the Methodist Church Home, Cornwall, where former pastor, Rev. Harold MacMurray is chaplain.

Rev. John S. Carter, pastor of the Mountainhome Church, was guest speaker for the service.

Prior to the motorcade's departure for Cornwall, the participants were served a baked ham dinner furnished by the official board. Mrs. Joanne Shaller and Mrs. Gladys Elygood were co-chairmen for the dinner.

Mrs. John Nauman, director of the choir led the anthems, "I Know Whom I Have Believed," "The Heavens Are Telling," "Lead Me To The Rock," and "More Love To Thee," for the afternoon service. Mrs. Warren Miller was organist.

After the service, the visitors were served refreshments and given a tour of the grounds and buildings, including the MacMurray's home. They visited with Rev. and Mrs. Walley and Rev. and Mrs. Goudy, who also served the Mountainhome change in the past.

Former members, who now make their home in Cornwall were visited, Miss Ada Stright and Miss Annie Case.

Attending the service were Beatrice Price, Glen Shaller, Bernice Shepard, Ethel Conley, Hildegard Born, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wil-son, Jeanne Bowman, Rebecca Black, Mr. and Mrs. George Westcott, Ralph Thomas, Arch Shaller, Allen Conley, Elwood Johnson, Wondale Seese, Dolly Price, Paula Reisenwiler and Mrs. Harry Price.

Stroud Twp. Fire Auxiliary Buys Tables

Stroud Township — The October meeting of the Auxiliary to the Stroud Township Volunteer Fire Company was recently held in the Municipal Building, N. Fifth St. Mrs. Clyde White presided.

Plans for the November meeting, previously scheduled to be held at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company Building, Phillips Street, were changed. Instead the meeting will be held at the Municipal Building on November 14. At that time a regular business session will be held. Tentative plans were made to hold the December 12 meeting at the PP&L Building, with that company's Home Economist as hostess.

Announcement was made that the two tables purchased by the auxiliary had been placed in the dining room of the Municipal Building.

A visitor, Mrs. Merrill C. Dennis was welcomed. An invitation was extended to all ladies of the township to attend as visitors or new members.

Refreshments served from a floral decorated, candlelit table, featured pumpkin pie with whipped cream. Hostesses were Mrs. Helen Parker and Mrs. Helen Rice.

ESSC Wins Close One Over Mounties

MANSFIELD — When you throttle Toby Barkman, don't take your eyes off Jan Bellevue.

This is a lesson which should be learned by opponents of East Stroudsburg State College's football Warriors who today are still unbeaten and untied after five contests following Saturday's thrilling 12-6 win over the Mansfield Mountaineers here.

Barkman was stymied by the Mounties who double-teamed, and even triple-teamed the star halfback during the contest.

Another Triumph
So what happens? Coach Jack Gregory's Warriors turn Bellevue loose in the third period to break up a 6-6 tie and give the Red and White another gridiron triumph.

The victory also marked the Warriors' fourth straight Pennsylvania State College Athletic Conference win to remain in first place in the eastern division.

Packers Record Still Spotless

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Battering Ram Jim Taylor, forced to carry the work load with Paul Hornung sidelined, scored the clinching touchdown and pulled a sluggish Green Bay to a 31-13 victory over San Francisco (Sunday) as the Packers kept the National Football League's only unblemished record spotless.

Taylor snapped the Packers out of their lethargy in the second period after the 49ers had taken a 6-0 lead. The jarring fullback then scampered 17 yards in the third period for the decisive TD.

Record Nip 6-0

The triumph kept the defending NFL champions atop the western conference with a 6-0 record. Washington maintained its grip on first place in the eastern sector as Norm Snead-to-Bobby Mitchell passing combination clicked for two touchdowns in a 27-21 conquest of Philadelphia.

The New York Giants took over the runnerup position behind the Redskins and dropped Detroit into a second place tie in the west by beating the Lions 17-14 on a 9-yard field goal by Don Chandler. Washington's record is 4-0-2, New York is 4-2.

The Lions are at 4-2 along with the Chicago Bears, who moved up with a convincing 35-15 drubbing of Baltimore on Billy Wade's three touchdown passes.

Cowboys Surprise

Dallas' surprising Cowboys edged into third place in the east as Eddie LeBaron connected for five touchdown flips—three to Frank Clarke—in a 42-27 walloping of Pittsburgh. Cleveland rode Jim Ninowski's passing to a 34-7 thumping of St. Louis and in a battle of winless clubs Minnesota clobbered Los Angeles 38-14.

Meanwhile, the American League also had its battles—two broke out at Dallas, where a dozen players mixed in one of the brawls between the Texans and the New York Titans. Texan Abner Haynes was ejected for slugging lineman Jerry Fields and New York tackle Buddy Cockerell was sent to the sidelines for another disturbance in the 20-17 Dallas victory.

Denver Keeps Lead

The triumph left Dallas at 5-1, just behind Denver which kept the western lead with a 20-10 triumph over Houston. The Oilers fell into a tie for the eastern lead with Boston at 4-2.

Lebaron hit Clarke on TD flips of 45, 3, and 13 yards, the last one giving the Cowboys (3-2-1) some breathing room after Bobby Layne's had brought the Steelers (3-3) within range, 28-27. Layne marched goyard again but Don Bishop intercepted at midfield, returned to the 15 and Lebaron connected with Clark.

Eagles Lose Fifth Game Of Season

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The National Football League's explosive new pass-catch combination, quarterback Norm Snead to halfback Bobby Mitchell, carried the unbeaten Washington Redskins to a 27-21 victory Sunday over the Philadelphia Eagles.

In scoring their fourth victory of the season—they have been tied twice—the Skins showed a sellout Franklin Field crowd of 60,671 their last year's NAIA playoffs. The last team to beat the Warriors in league play was the Newark College of Engineering in 1961, and the last team to shut out the Warriors was West Chester in 1960, by the score of 4-0. The remaining schedule for the Warriors finds them playing all home games against Lock Haven Oct. 27, West Chester, Oct. 31; Newark College of Engineering Nov. 3; and Wilkes College Nov. 7.

It was the first loss for coach John Eiler's squad since Howard Johnson defeated ESSC 43 in last year's NAIA playoffs. The last team to beat the Warriors in league play was the Newark College of Engineering in 1961, and the last team to shut out the Warriors was West Chester in 1960, by the score of 4-0. The remaining schedule for the Warriors finds them playing all home games against Lock Haven Oct. 27, West Chester, Oct. 31; Newark College of Engineering Nov. 3; and Wilkes College Nov. 7.

In the third period, Mitchell returned a Philadelphia kickoff 74 yards to the Eagles 25, paving the way for another Khayat field goal, a 9-yarder.

The fleet halfback wound up a great day by taking a 47-yard touchdown pass from Snead in the fourth period. All told he caught eight for 145 yards and two touchdowns.

Beliveau, a 200-pound junior, is the hero of the day at college hill, as well he might with a spectacular 18-yard run into pay dirt while howling over a host of would-be tacklers en route.

Wasilechak Intercepts
Jerry Wasilechak, who was unable to get either of his conversion kicks over the uprights, certainly atoned for his failing in that department by intercepting a pass to set up the game-winning TD.

Wasilechak intercepted on the Mansfield 35 and ran back 17 yards to the Mounties' 18. Beliveau took over from there. This was the same Beliveau who scored the only touchdown for the Gregory contingent against West Chester earlier in the year when ESSC took a 7-6 nod over the '61 sectional champs. Wasilechak also was a key figure in that game, too, booting the extra point for the margin of victory.

Defense Prevails
Meanwhile, the stalwart defense of the Warriors once again prevailed in this contest, holding the Mounties to 86 yards rushing and 98 through the air.

The "Thundering Herd" of ESSC grounded out a total of 202 yards on the ground, although gaining but 10 yards with one pass completion of four attempts.

East Stroudsburg drew first blood in the second period on a spectacular 76-yard punt return by Gary Willhide to give ESSC a 6-0 lead.

But the Mounties, who were anxious for an upset before their Homecoming Day throng which included Gov. David Lawrence, bounced back in the same quarter to even the count at halftime.

Billy Roesch, Mansfield's aerial specialist, threw a pass to End Charlie MacPhearson in a 24-yard play which knotted the count at 6-6 as the crowd went wild. The conversion boot was wide as both teams settled for a 6-6 stalemate at the half.

ESSC Soccer Team Loses First Game

THE undefeated string of the East Stroudsburg State College soccer team came to an end Saturday when a fired-up Elizabethtown College eleven defeated the Warriors 2-0 in a game played at Elizabethtown.

Before a homecoming crowd, the Bears, coached by Ira Herr, scored two quick goals in the opening period, and then held the Warriors scoreless in dealing the ESSC squad its first defeat after seven victories.

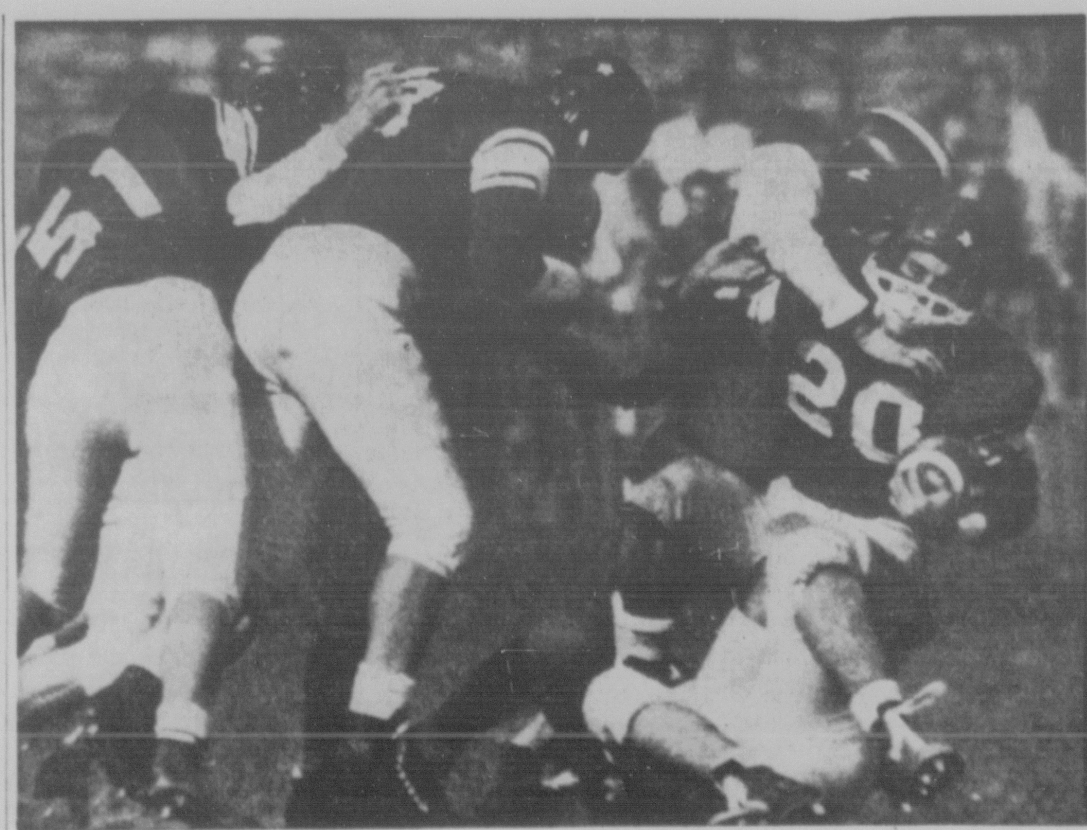

At 1:46 of the opening stanza, Al Hershey put the Elizabethtown club in the lead 1-0, one which they never relinquished. In the same period, Tony McLaughlin added the clincher for the Bears when he scored at the 7:30 mark.

The final three quarters were scoreless although the Warriors outshot their opponents 16-15. Elizabethtown's record is now 5-1 having lost previously to West Chester, last year's NCAA champions.

It was the first loss for coach John Eiler's squad since Howard Johnson defeated ESSC 43 in last year's NAIA playoffs. The last team to beat the Warriors in league play was the Newark College of Engineering in 1961, and the last team to shut out the Warriors was West Chester in 1960, by the score of 4-0. The remaining schedule for the Warriors finds them playing all home games against Lock Haven Oct. 27, West Chester, Oct. 31; Newark College of Engineering Nov. 3; and Wilkes College Nov. 7.

McNEAR NOT FAR — Nazareth's Al McNear doesn't get very far in this carry as he's brought down by two Pen Argyl players in Saturday's game. None of Nazareth's players gained much as Green Knights won 35-2.

Myers New Star On Grid Horizon In The Midwest

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas has again proved its superiority in the Southwest and Alabama continues to roll in the Southeast, but a new star seems to be rising in the football-frenzied Midwest, where teen-age passing sensation Tommy (The Gun) Myers is firing Northwestern toward the top among major colleges.

Texas and Alabama, the No. 1 and 2 teams in the latest Associated Press poll of the nation's elite colleges, remained unbeaten and untied as the college football season reached its halfway mark. In a form-filled program Saturday only one major upset was recorded among the top ten.

Myers Stars

Myers, a 19-year-old sophomore, engineered that one, pulling the eighth-ranked Wildcats to an 18-14 triumph over sixth-ranked Ohio State after the Buckeyes had led 14-0 in the first quarter.

Rated No. 1 in the pre-season poll, the Buckeyes' prestige plummeted with a 9-7 loss to UCLA two weeks ago.

It sank further when Myers began to get Northwestern moving. A 9-yard touchdown pass to Paul Flatley put the Wildcats on the scoreboard and short plunges by Bill Swingle and Steve Murphy—the last with five minutes to go—completed the upset. This gave Northwestern possession of first place in the Big Ten Conference.

UCLA also fell, losing to twice-beaten Pittsburgh 8-6 on an improvised two-point conversion pass from Jim Traficant to Rick Leeson. Auburn's legions pulled a mild upset by edging Georgia Tech 14-11 and Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners heralded a return to prominence in the Big Eight with a 13-7 form reversal over Kansas.

Texas needed an 85-yard touchdown drive in the closing minutes for a 7-3 conquest of seventh-ranked Arkansas in a test of the two Southwest Conference powers. Alabama, meanwhile, spluttered for a while before rolling over Tennessee 27-7 and extending the Tide's unbeaten streak to 23 games.

Launches Bid

Third-ranked Southern California launched its bid for the Big Six Conference's Rose Bowl bid with a 34-6 walloping of California as Hal Bedsole grabbed touchdown passes of 46 and 79 yards. No. 4 Louisiana State needed a last-quarter TD scored by Jerry Stovall to get by Kentucky 7-0.

Mississippi, No. 5, smashed Tulane 21-0 in a Southeastern Conference clash, ninth-rated Washington blanked Stanford 14-0 in Big Six play and 10th-ranked Wisconsin grabbed second place in the Big Ten by thumping Iowa 42-14.

The Texas Longhorns fell behind the Pkers in the second quarter when Arkansas sophomore Tom M. Knolly leaked a 41-yard field goal—his first in college football. It stayed that way until the fourth quarter, when Duke Carlisle and Johnny Genuel led the 85-yard TD drive culminated when Tommy Ford cracked over from the 3.

Not Through

But Arkansas wasn't through. With only 36 seconds left, the Pkers started upfield. Carlisle halted it with an interception on the Texas 44.

Alabama got off to a shaky 6-0 first quarter lead against the Vols on a pair of field goals, but soon began to break the game open on the long passing of Joe Namath and Jack Harbut.

The Alabama game was televised regionally as was Oregon's 35-20 triumph over the Air Force and Southern Methodist's 15-7 Southwest Conference decision over Rice.

In other SWC games, TCU beat Texas A&M 20-14 and Baylor defeated Texas Tech 28-6. Elsewhere in the South, Duke remained back of Maryland in the Atlantic Coast Conference race with a 16-0 triumph over Clemson and Virginia Military remained first in the Southern Conference with a 20-7 decision over Davidson.

Nebraska Wins

Nebraska defeated Kansas State 26-6 and Missouri bopped Oklahoma State 23-6 and remained in a tie for the Big Eight lead. In other Midwest action, Purdue belted Michigan 37-0, Iowa State trounced Colorado 57-19, Minnesota blanked Illinois 17-0 and Michigan State thumped Notre Dame 31-7.

In the East, Army stayed out front in the newly-coined "Eastern Big Five," where the Cadets, Penn State, Pittsburgh, and Navy and Syracuse are playing a round robin schedule. Army defeated Virginia Tech 20-12, Penn State edged Syracuse 20-19, and Navy swept over Boston College 26-6.

Dartmouth and Princeton remained tied for the No. 1 position in the Ivy League. Dartmouth blanked Holy Cross 10-0 while Princeton lost to Colgate 16-15 in non-league games.

S-burg Is Stubborn In Whitehall Loss

By BARRY BICKHART
Daily Record Correspondent

A TORRID goal line stand in the early moments of the fourth quarter by the interior line of the Whitehall Zephyrs proved to be the turning point of Saturday afternoon's football game at Whitehall, where the Stroud Union High School Mountaineers lost their fifth game of the season against one win, 26-19.

With the score tied at 13-13 early in the fourth quarter, Tom Schatzman, Mountaineer fullback recovered a Whitehall fumble on the Zephyrs' 25-yard line. After Wayne Bond, Stroud Union halfback, ran to the 21-yard line, quarterback Freddie Frantz threw a 17-yard pass complete to Schatzman at the Whitehall 4-yard line for a first down and goal-to-go situation facing the Mountaineers.

S-U Workhorse

Schatzman, who was the workhorse of the Stroudsburg backfield, ran the ball three times through the middle of the line only to gain three yards and the West Main Street eleven had a fourth and goal to go from the 1-yard line, for the tie-breaking tally.

On a fourth down play, Frantz, for the fourth consecutive time, gave to his hard-charging fullback, and Schatzman failed to make the touchdown by a matter of inches and Whitehall took possession of the football on downs.

This brilliant goal line stand for Whitehall was led by interior lineman Owen Roberts, who punned Schatzman.

Bruising Battle

What looked like a possible runaway ball game after Whitehall scored the first time they had possession of the ball, turned into a bruising battle of defensive linemen in a game in which the victor was not to be determined until the final eight minutes of play.

After Stroudsburg took the ensuing kickoff of the game and were unable to move the piskin, Ed Nevil, Mountaineer end, punned to the Whitehall 37-yard line. Taking possession at this point, the Zephyr eleven drove 63 yards in eight plays to take the lead 6-0. The highlight of the drive was a 40-yard pass from quarterback Larry Meyers to Dick Yost which put the ball in play at the Stroud Union 21-yard line.

Meyers, on an end run, lugged the piskin to the 11-yard line, where three plays later he ran into the end zone for the initial tally of the game. Jay Marks' kick for the PAT was successful and the Zephyrs led 7-0.

First TD

The Mountaineers were not to be denied, for early in the second stanza, they marched 58 yards in 13 plays for their first tally of the game.

A 19-yard pass from Frantz to Ed Nevil put the ball in play on Mountaineers' a first down. Halfback Glen Bisbing broke off tackle for an 11-yard gain to the 20-yard line, and another Mountaineer first down. Bisbing again carried to the 11-yard line, where Schatzman ran up the middle for eight yards to the Zephyr 3. Two plays later Quarterback Frantz, on a sneak scored the first touchdown for the local eleven and Whitehall led 7-6. Nevil's attempted kick was blocked by Roberts of Whitehall, who was Stroudsburg's biggest nemesis of the afternoon.

With four minutes to play in the first half, and Stroud Union in punt formation on their own 40-yard line, Austin Keiser entered the ball over Nevil's head and Whitehall took possession of the piskin on Stroudsburg's 10-yard line.

Three plays later Steve Salway passed to sophomore back Ron Sadler in the end zone for Whitehall's second score of the day. A penalty for illegal procedure against Whitehall when attempting the PAT, was refused by Stroud Union, and the Zephyrs led 13-6.

S-burg was unable to move the football and Whitehall has possession when the half ended, and the Mountaineers went into the locker rooms at halftime trailing 13-6.

An inspired Stroud Union eleven took the field in the second half, and through pure determination looked as though they could possibly pull the game out of the fire in quest of their second win of the year. Ed Nevil, with two minutes gone in the half, punned to the Whitehall 5 yard line, where Lee Herb, a Zephyr back called for a fair catch. Herb fumbled the ball and fullback Tom Schatzman pounced on the fumbled piskin, the first of two he was to recover, at the 4 yard line of Whitehall.

Schatzman Scores

Two plays later, Schatzman plunged for the touchdown and the S-burg eleven trailed 13-12. Gambling for the all important PAT, Frantz threw into the end zone to halfback Glen Bisbing who made a sensational diving catch and the contest was tied 13-13.

Stroudsburg appeared to have received the biggest break of the day when Whitehall fullback Jim Zemiansky fumbled on the Zephyr's 25-yard line. It was at this point when Whitehall put up a brilliant goal line stand that broke the backs of the local eleven, who had driven to the Whitehall 4, only to be stymied on the next four plays.

99-Yard Drive

A fired up Whitehall eleven took possession on its own 1-inch line and marched the entire length of the football field, where with fourth down and four yards to go on the S-burg seven yard line, quarterback Meyers on an option play, ran the final 7 yards into paydirt which put Whitehall into the lead 19-13, one in which they never relinquished. The attempt for the PAT by Marks, was no good and the score remained 19-13, with five minutes remaining in the game.

The Zephyrs marched for the clinching tally, with Zemiansky scoring on a 100-yard plunge to ice the game for Whitehall. Marks added the PAT and the score was now 26-13.

Glen Bisbing scored with less than two minutes remaining in the game when he scampered 19-yards to the Whitehall 1-yard line and then carried the ball over on the next play to make the final score 26-19.

Ninowski Passes Cleveland To Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jim Ninowski unbound the Cleveland Browns offense with three touchdown passes as the Browns scored a 34-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a National Football League game Sunday.

Steelers Upset By Cowboys

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys rode on the passing arm of little Eddie LeBaron and the receiving of Frank Clarke Sunday for a 42-27 upset victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

LeBaron, the leading passer in the National Football League, fired five touchdown passes, three of them to Clarke for the Dallas ends' 9th, 10th and 11th of the season.

Quarterback Bobby Layne almost pulled out a victory for the Steelers in a thrilling fourth quarter. He passed 30 yards to Buddy Dial, setting up a one-yard touchdown plunge by John Henry Johnson early in the period.

Moments later, Clendon Thomas intercepted a pass inside the Dallas 25, and four plays later, Layne hit Dial on a 10-yard touchdown pass.

Dallas 14 7 7 14-42
Pittsburgh 7 3 3 14-27

Ninowski, having one of his best days with the Browns, set up another touchdown and two field goals with his passes as he completed 19 of 29 tosses for 339 yards.

The 34 points were the most Cleveland has scored in a game this year and the first time it has managed more than two touchdowns in a game.

Pen Argyl Scores 35-2 Triumph Over Nazareth

PEN ARGYL — Coach Elwood Pechel's Green Knights of Pen Argyl combined the fine running talents of Halfbacks Gary Heard and Bob Engler with a strong defensive line to score a 35-2 triumph over the Nazareth Blue Eagles Saturday.

The Knights would have had a shutout had it not been for Andy Stracko who got mixed up in directions after intercepting a Nazareth pass in the third period. He plucked the 'skin out of the air, spun around, and then dashed into the wrong end zone for 20 yards and a two-point safety for Nazareth. By that time, however, the Knights had already piled 28 points so Stracko just added a little humor to the game.

Pen Argyl struck for a TD in the opening period after receiving the game-starting kickoff with Heard clinching a 32-yard march. Fullback Jim Rodney took a hand-off from Engler on the kickoff and ran back to the Nazareth 32 for a return of 48 yards.

Heard Scores

The Knights needed only four plays to score from there, with BOB ENGLER of Pen Argyl dives for added yardage while everybody seems to be falling down at same time. Leading the play for Pen Argyl is Fullback Jim Rodney (33).

Tiger Will Fight Fullmer Any Way

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Challenger Dick Tiger vows to fight champion Gene Fullmer with any style the titlist chooses and beat him out of the World Boxing Association's middleweight crown.

"I've no set plan," the No. 1 ranking contender and British Empire 160-pound champion from Nigeria declared on finishing up his training. "I'll just go in and fight him the way he comes to me on Tuesday night."

"Whatever way he wants to fight me, I take him that way."

Five Matches Set In CPML

FIVE matches will be played tonight at Colonial Lanes starting at 9 p.m. in Colonial Pocono Mountains Bowling League action.

Gray Chevrolet vs. Monroe Mule on alleys 7 and 8; Marshalls Creek Kennels vs. Colonial Lanes on alleys 9 and 10; Sinclair Oil vs. Brite Cleaners on alleys 11 and 12; Bailey's Motel vs. Frank's Barber Shop on alleys 13 and 14; and Orchard Trailer Park vs. E. D. Huffman's on alleys 15 and 16.

and the fact the challenger has been installed the 7-5 favorite has brought sharp retorts from the champion, who says:

"I'm going to try to knock him out."

Neither made a flat prediction of stopping his foe in the 15-round bout at Candlestick Park.

"Fullmer is strong and I'm strong," declared the 33-year-old Tiger. "I think it will go 12 rounds. If I'm lucky, I'll stop him. I can beat him."

Each has worked longer than usual for this fight, three times postponed—originally from Aug. 27. All that's left in the preparation phase is some loosening up exercises and Tuesday morning's weigh-in.

At His Peak

Neither thinks the delay will hurt although Tiger's manager, Jersey Jones, said last week the Nigerian "has reached his peak. It's our job to keep him there."

Fullmer had a different explanation saying, "The thing that really tires you is the fight itself. I haven't been in the fight."

Still, since starting to prepare for a Paul Pender match that never materialized for the undisputed title, Fullmer has boxed 256 rounds with sparring partners and run more than 360 miles.

So it's no wonder he says, "I'm looking forward to this fight."

Intercepts Pass

An intercepted pass by Heard set up the next TD in the same stanza just before the half ended. Intercepting on the PA 28, he returned to his own 33. Terry Sandt carried twice to the 44 and a first down and Engler then carried to the Nazareth 45 but a clipping penalty put the ball back on the Pen Argyl 40.

On the next play, Heard passed to End Roger Snyder who handed off to Stracko. This time Stracko headed in the right direction and missed scoring a TD by a yard. He was pulled down just short of the goal line behind Heard then carried through the line for the score and Engler ran the extra point for a 21-0 halftime lead.

In the third period, Engler returned a punt 18 yards to the Nazareth 32 and the Knights tallied in five plays from there with Engler crossing the goal line from the 13. Heard ran the extra point.

Amuses Crowd

It was soon after this score that Stracko amused the crowd with his wrong-way run into the end zone.

But Nazareth had little to be delighted about as the Knights tallied once more in the final period on another touchdown again set up by an intercepted pass by Heard, returning it to the PA 44.

Heard and Engler combined on five consecutive carries to bring the ball down to the Nazareth 16, and Engler carried for the score two plays later from the 8. Heard ran the extra point.

In all, Heard carried 20 times for 156 yards, while Engler carried 14 times for 125 yards.

PV Bears Rout Pius JV's, 22-7

A ROCK-RIBBED defense on the part of the Pleasant Valley Bears, was too much for the Pope Pius X JV's Saturday afternoon, as the Bears routed the visiting Royals 22-7.

After failing to score in the opening stanza, the Bears began to roll into high gear enroute to their second win of the season against three losses.

Lou Herfuth started the PV squad moving when he moved into paydirt on a draw play with the first score of the ball game early in the second period. The PAT was missed and the Bears led 6-0.

Early in the third stanza, PV drove to the Pope Pius 2-yard line only to lose possession on downs to the Royals. On the second play from scrimmage, Ken Bowman, PV linebacker, dropped a Pius ball carrier in the end zone for a safety, stretching the Bears lead to 8-0.

Moser Scores

In the final period of play, PV drove 70 yards for a score, when Henry Moser on an end run, carried the pigskin 20 yards into paydirt. Lambert Murphy, PV's capable quarterback, plunged for the PAT, and the score was 15-0.

On the first play following the kickoff, Pius fumbled and a host of PV linemen fell on the pigskin to give the Bears possession on the Royals 50-yard line.

PV drove to the 30-yard line where halfback John Kresge, after picking up two brilliant blocks by Ronnie Dorshimer and Barry Shupp, scampered the final 30 yards into the end zone to cap the scoring for the afternoon as far for the Bears.

Murphy again added the PAT and the Bears led 22-0.

After PV coach Wayne Hulsizer emptied his bench, Pope Pius entered the scoring column when quarterback Zito on a keeper ran 7 yards untouched into the end zone to avert a Pius shutout. Halfback Dietz added the PAT and the final score was 22-7.

The state's major colleges enjoyed their best weekend collectively of the football season Saturday, although the ranks of unbeaten Keystone State teams were thinned considerably.

Each of the so-called majors won in a thriller. Pitt, upset last week by West Virginia, dumped unbeaten UCLA 8-6 on an improvised two point conversion; Penn State had to block a Syracuse field goal on the last play of the game to preserve a 20-19 victory; Penn stopped Brown on the one with less than two minutes left and held on for an 18-15 triumph; Villanova scored on an intercepted pass in the third quarter to gain the lead on Delaware in a 22-10 victory.

ESSC Unruffled

Among the unbeaten and untied: Slippery Rock continued to roll, defeating Westminster 20-13 for its sixth straight in a battle of perfect record teams. East Stroudsburg kept its record unblemished edging Mansfield 12-6 with the help of a third period intercepted pass. Waynesburg remained unbeaten with a 22-12 decision over Marietta.

Susquehanna scored the first two times it got the ball and went on to beat previously unbeaten Western Maryland, 22-8 boosting its unbeaten streak to 18 games; Swarthmore went down for the first time in 1962, bowing to Ursinus 14-8, while Moravian suffered its first loss, dropping a 30-8 decision to fired up Lebanon Valley.

Still In Lead

In the State College Conference, East Stroudsburg maintained its Eastern lead with Slippery Rock still tops in the Western Division.

Other conference games found Bloomsburg, aided by two blocked punts, an easy 33-14 winner over Millersville; Kutztown, with seven different ball carriers scoring the touchdowns, routed Cheyney 48-6; Edinboro trounced Lock Haven 28-14; California edged Shippensburg 20-13 as reserve quarterback Ray Carion passed for 220 yards and Indiana toppled Clarion 17-10. In a non-conference game, West Chester with quarterback Jerry Eberly and Jim Holt passing for two TDs each, walloped Southern Connecticut, 41-0.

Cercel Becomes A 'Hero' After Bad Center Pass

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Paul Cercel, a sophomore center who four weeks ago faced a police magistrate, nearly faced a John Michelosen firing squad Sunday. Instead, he is some sort of a hero.

Cercel unintentionally and unwittingly started an improvised two-point conversion play Saturday that marked the difference in Pitt's 8-6 football victory over previously unbeaten and slightly favored UCLA.

Speedy right halfback Paul Martha has just swept left end for a yard touchdown run that gave Pitt a 6-3 lead. Fullback Rick Leeson stepped back to try and kick the extra point with quarterback Jim Traficant holding. Cercel's center, however, was too high for Traficant to bring down to the ground in time.

'Ready To Shoot'

"I was ready to shoot him," Pitt coach Michelosen said following the game referring to the bad center. Then he added: "But it worked out real good. It couldn't have worked out better."

Both lines (Pitt's first and second teams) did a much better job than they have been doing," he explained. "The defense looked much better and contained them better. And the halfbacks were halfbacks, the way they were running."

The loss was a tough one for the Bruins who displayed a strong defense and a future star in sophomore quarterback Larry Zeno. But now they get ready for the part of their schedule that counts—four games in the next five weeks with Big Five members and the try for the Rose Bowl.

Roar Back

The Bruins roared back minutes after Pitt's success and scored a touchdown on Kermit Alexander's one-yard run with a teammate's fumble. But their try at a two-point conversion failed.

During Pitt's scoring drive, Traficant kept the ball mostly on the ground and mainly on the left side.

"We were trying to take advantage of the defense and run into the sideline," Michelosen said, feeling better now that the Panthers are 3-2.

"The defense they were using near the sideline was more conscious of the open field. The kids were real confident then, they felt they could go."

The veteran coach, who made the biggest line-up change in his eight-year term at Pitt for the game by benching four starters, praised the team in general for the mild upset over the team that two weeks ago whipped Ohio State 9-7.

Middle Atlantic Conference

had Lehigh bowing to Rutgers 29-13, with the winners gaining 325 yards to 178 for Lehigh. Bucknell quarterback Ron Giardano tied a university seasonal record of nine touchdown passes held by former Little All-America Paul Terhes, and end Dick Tyrrell set a Bucknell career pass receiving mark of 64 receptions in a 28-6 win over Lafayette. Gettysburg, beaten in its first three games, continued on the comeback trail with a 25-13 triumph over winless Muhlenberg. Albright traveled to Youngstown, Ohio and lost to Youngstown 16-7. Temple's ever improving Owls almost pulled one of the upsets of the day before bowing to tough Buffalo, 16-13.

Carnegie tech scored its first win this season and first after 11 straight losses over a two year stretch, topping Franklin & Marshall, 14-12.

Lehigh Loses

The Middle Atlantic Conference had Lehigh bowing to Rutgers 29-13, with the winners gaining 325 yards to 178 for Lehigh. Bucknell quarterback Ron Giardano tied a university seasonal record of nine touchdown passes held by former Little All-America Paul Terhes, and end Dick Tyrrell set a Bucknell career pass receiving mark of 64 receptions in a 28-6 win over Lafayette. Gettysburg, beaten in its first three games, continued on the comeback trail with a 25-13 triumph over winless Muhlenberg. Albright traveled to Youngstown, Ohio and lost to Youngstown 16-7. Temple's ever improving Owls almost pulled one of the upsets of the day before bowing to tough Buffalo, 16-13.

Carnegie tech scored its first win this season and first after 11 straight losses over a two year stretch, topping Franklin & Marshall, 14-12.

E-burg Still Can't Beat Wilson Jinx

By KEN O'BRIEN
Daily Record Sports Writer
WILSON BORO — The jinx on this football field still prevails today for the Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg High School.

Couch Jack Kist led his grid-iron troops here Saturday with hopes of gaining the school's first football victory on this field but the Wilson Boro Warriors turned two pass interceptions into eventual touchdowns while holding the Cavaliers scoreless for a 15-0 triumph.

The Blue and Gold of Coach Paul Opitz thus handed Eastburg its second defeat of the season while also topping the Cavaliers from the top perch of the Lehigh-Northampton League, Hellertown, the only undefeated team in the league, is now on top.

East Stroudsburg is now 3-1 in the league while Wilson Boro remains in contention with a 2-1 record.

The first of Wilson's two touchdowns was set up by an intercepted pass thrown by Cavalier Quarterback Jack Van Horn late in the second quarter.

Oddly, it was Van Horn who had given the Cavaliers possession by intercepting a Nick Azolina pass in the end zone and dashing back to the Eastburg 6. Van Horn and Jim Steele carried on two plays for 10 yards and the initial first down of the game for them.

Six plays later the Kist Kids had driven to their own 39 and it looked as if the sluggish offense was ready to move.

First TD

But Frank Helm intercepted Van Horn's aerial to stop the E-burg drive and give Wilson possession on the Cavalier 43. On the first play from scrimmage, Wilson's Brian Saltern cracked through the right side of the Cavalier line and dashed the distance for the first TD and an 8-0 lead.

Early in the third period, a beautiful punt off the foot of Sophomore Bob Plotts sailed over the heads of the Eastburg defenders and once again forced the Cavaliers to take over deep in their own territory. The kick — one of several fine boots by the Wilson youngster — sailed a distance of 62 yards.

On Eastburg's second play, Van Horn tossed another pass which was intercepted by Bing Metz and the Warriors took over on the Eastburg 14. Saltern skirted right end for seven yards, then he hit the right side for five more and a first down on the 2.

Azolina then went across on a quarterback sneak in a quick opener for the clinching tally. Plotts kicked the ball over the uprights for the 15-0 spread.

The only sustained drive engineered by the Eastburgers came in the third canto, Starting from their own 30, they drove to the Wilson 10 in 12 plays.

A 13-yard dash by Van Horn put the ball in enemy territory and two plays later Van Horn threw a pass to Dick Deiter in a play covering 19 yards. That gave the Cavaliers another first down on the Wilson 34.

After gaining another first down on the Wilson 23, Steele ran for 15 and a first down on the Wilson 10.

But Van Horn was tossed for a loss of a yard on the next play, and then he fumbled the ball next time, resulting in a Wilson recovery a sudden halt to the Cavaliers drive.

The Eastburgers were a demoralized group after that.

Pennsy's Unbeaten Teams Continues To Thin Out

The state's major colleges enjoyed their best weekend collectively of the football season Saturday, although the ranks of unbeaten Keystone State teams were thinned considerably.

Each of the so-called majors won in a thriller. Pitt, upset last week by West Virginia, dumped unbeaten UCLA 8-6 on an improvised two point conversion; Penn State had to block a Syracuse field goal on the last play of the game to preserve a 20-19 victory; Penn stopped Brown on the one with less than two minutes left and held on for an 18-15 triumph; Villanova scored on an intercepted pass in the third quarter to gain the lead on Delaware in a 22-10 victory.

ESSC Unruffled

Among the unbeaten and untied: Slippery Rock continued to roll, defeating Westminster 20-13 for its sixth straight in a battle of perfect record teams. East Stroudsburg kept its record unblemished edging Mansfield 12-6 with the help of a third period intercepted pass. Waynesburg remained unbeaten with a 22-12 decision over Marietta.

Susquehanna scored the first two times it got the ball and went on to beat previously unbeaten Western Maryland, 22-8 boosting its unbeaten streak to 18 games; Swarthmore went down for the first time in 1962, bowing to Ursinus 14-8, while Moravian suffered its first loss, dropping a 30-8 decision to fired up Lebanon Valley.

Still In Lead

In the State College Conference, East Stroudsburg maintained its Eastern lead with Slippery Rock still tops in the Western Division.

Giants Upset Detroit On Field Goal

NEW YORK (AP)—The aroused New York Giant defense harried Mill Plum, intercepted two passes and blocked a punt and field goal attempt Sunday, upsetting the Detroit Lions 17-14 on a 9-yard field goal by Don Chandler.

With a tie hanging in the balance, Wayne Walker attempted a 53-yard field goal for Detroit with 1 minute, 37 seconds to go in the final period. Dick Lynch blocked the kick into defensive tackle Rosey Grier and the Giants were home free.

Sam Huff blocked a Yale Larry punt in the third period, setting up the Giants' touchdown that tied the score on a 1-yard plunge by Phil King, following a 31-yard screen pass from Y. A. Tittle to King.

Lynch intercepted a Plum pass in the late stages of the last period and ran it back 15 yards to the Detroit 34. A swing pass from Tittle to Alex Webster moved the ball down close enough for Chandler to kick the winning field goal.

Dr. Pond To Attend Heart Parley

HAROLD S. Pond, M.D., medical advisor, has been named to represent the Eastern Pennsylvania Heart Association as National Assembly Delegate, at the Annual Meeting and Scientific Sessions of the American Heart Association, in Cleveland, Oct. 26 - 30. It was announced by Dr. Frank D. Sills, President.

Dr. Pond, of Stroudsburg, will be among an estimated 5,000 physicians, research scientists, nurses, and lay leaders from throughout the country who will discuss the newest developments in the nationwide effort to control and conquer diseases of the heart and blood vessels. These ailments account for more than half of all deaths in the nation.

Meetings of the AHA Assembly, national advisory body, and of the Staff Conference of Heart Associates, are included in the Annual Meeting.

On Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 29 - 30, Assembly delegates representing all program interests and geographic areas of the Association will gather at the Hotel Sheraton-Cleveland. Nine Assembly Panels will be in session on Monday to discuss programs and policies through which the organization endeavors to bring to the American people the full benefits of its research, public and professional education and community service programs.

The Assembly will review panel recommendations and elect officers and board members of the Association on Tuesday morning. Also, the President-elect, Dr. Warren, will be installed as President. Dr. Butterworth, retiring president will become chairman of AHA's Central Committee for Medical and Community Program.

The Staff Conference, representing professional staff members of Heart Associations nationwide, will meet from October 25-27 in the Pick-Carter Hotel.

The Daily Investor

By William A. Doyle
Q. I don't like most mutual funds. I honestly feel that too often the people who manage them buy and sell stocks for the sake of buying and selling. And that's not always to the best advantage of the mutual fund shareholders.

That's why I like my Corporate Leaders Trust Fund. That mutual fund holds only 28 stocks and seldom, if ever, changes those holdings. It just keeps adding more shares of the same. I feel it has a good performance record. Why aren't there other funds of this type?

A. There are. Nevertheless, funds of this type are quite interesting and often come as a surprise to many people.

In those funds there is none of that buying and selling, buying and selling of securities you worry about. In the jargon of finance, too much of that action is called "churning."

All the money you and other investors put into corporate leaders is invested in equal numbers of shares of 28 different stocks. For example, as of May 31, the fund held 34,310 shares of each of those 28 stocks. Assuming that more money rolls in, the next report should show a larger number of shares of each stock.

You have reason to be satisfied. The record shows that $10,000 invested in the fund would have grown in value to $21,694 in the 10 years ended Dec. 31 — after taking $4,852 capital-gains distributions in cash.

Another example of the practice of investing in only certain stocks is Founders Mutual Fund. That highly successful fund, each time it invests, puts equal numbers of dollars in each of 40 different blue-chips stocks.

As a result, each time Founders Mutual puts the money it receives from investors to work, it buys fewer shares of high-priced stocks and more shares of lower-priced stocks.

So, Founders Mutual is really using the time-tested method of dollar-averaging in its portfolio investments. The results prove that this really works.

The record shows that $10,000 invested in Founders Mutual would have grown in value to $30,440 in the 10 years ended Dec. 31 — after taking $104 capital-gains distributions in cash.

Q. I read the column you wrote about common trust funds operated by banks. You explained that those common trust funds have some similarities to mutual funds, because they provide professional management and diversification of investments in many different securities.

A. I understand that banks are setting up these common trust funds in direct competition to mutual funds?

A. No. At least they're not supposed to. That's not the purpose of bank-operated common trust funds.

A regulation of the U. S. Controller of the Currency reads, in part, as follows:

"The purposes . . . is to permit the use of common trust funds . . . for investment(s) . . . held for true fiduciary purposes; and the operation of such common trust funds as investment trusts for other than strictly fiduciary purposes is hereby prohibited."

The word is that the use of a common trust fund must be confined to a trust created for "a strictly fiduciary purpose," where the bank is a "true trustee" under a trust agreement normally drawn up by an attorney.

A top authority in this field explains that it is each bank's responsibility "to apply the bona fide trust test before any account may participate in a common trust fund." He adds that "an ordinary investment account could not qualify."

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

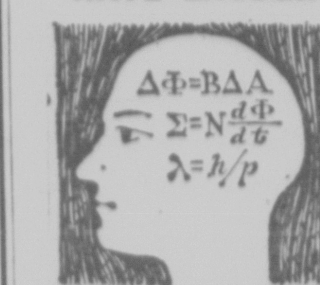

SO THIS IS A "corny picture". The girls of Laurel Hall Dormitory on the campus of East Stroudsburg State College added a decorative touch to the lobby by cleverly constructing a comical full-size figure through the use of old clothes, a paper bag and a lot of Fall flora. The "dummy" adds a seasonal interest to the modern atmosphere of the girl's dorm.

Holdup Protection

PHILADELPHIA—U. S. Atty. Drew J. T. O'Keefe and FBI agents met yesterday with officials of Philadelphia area banks to map new plans to prevent holdups. O'Keefe said the meeting, first of a series with bank officers, was confined to discussing closer cooperation between federal agencies and the banks.

WILL AMERICA HAVE ENOUGH

BRAIN POWER?

Brain power is more important to us than ever, because it is the basis of our strength in . . . business and trade, science and invention, culture and living standards.

But the demand for brain power is growing—can we develop enough to hold our world lead?

Not unless we back higher education, which gives us our leaders. But colleges are in a squeeze. Many face serious shortages—they need laboratories, facilities and, above all, qualified teachers.
